

HANDS IN UNION

FIELDS OF ACTIVITY

A massive earthquake occurred one day in April 2015 in Kathmandu, Nepal. This earthquake's epicenter was located between Phokara and Kathmandu and measured 7.9 on the Richter scale. The results and effects were devastating with houses in the cities collapsing, some mountain villages being completely wiped out, families lost their homes and children losing their parents. On this very Saturday Ingela Fors landed at Copenhagen's Airport just arriving from Kathmandu. Considering that she, under five years had worked together and in close cooperation with a Tibetan Buddhist monk, travelling around Nepal and giving support to the various aid projects that he was responsible for so this terrible earthquake disaster even greatly affected her on this Saturday in April. On receiving this terrible news, thoughts immediately rushed through her head – her friends and their families – were they still alive?

This thus was the background and reason to form the “Hands in Union” Foundation

In the weeks that followed Jonas Haak, the CEO of the Kristianstad Österlen Airport in South Sweden was contacted and the open and willing discussions led to taking decisions to create the “building blocks” in order to form a Foundation where transparency, compassion and humanity are the beacons that we follow. Our organization embraces concretely and honestly our humanitarian love and affinity towards each other. We are all interlinked as one large family irrespective of our different cultures, religions, ages, sexual orientation or different views. Together we began to add “building blocks” to build up and create the “Hands in Union” Foundation.

The next stage was to get others involved so we contacted Björn Natthiko Lindeblad to enquire if he was interested to give a lecture on the earthquake in Nepal and its victims. The event was a great success and 120 people came to listen to Bjorn at the Kristianstad Österlen Airport and we raised 36,000 SEK (almost 4100 USD) from the sale of tickets. All of the involved and occurred costs for the conference room, flower arrangements from the local florists - Jaffa the florists, production of the information brochure by the company Intrycko and even the hotel costs at the local Åhus Gästis were graciously donated and covered by the respective firms.

Hands in Union have now decided upon their ethnical guidelines with the aim to create and give confidence, assurance and show and act honestly and with loyalty to ensure that the Hands in Union's aims, intentions and objectives in regards to humanity and caring on a worldwide basis through the following:

Objective 1 – humanity and diversity

We meet and treat all equal in a truly human approach irrespective of cultures, religions or other beliefs, ages, sexual orientation, possible handicaps or disabilities or having different views. .

Objective 2 - rewards

Our involvement is based on the pleasure of giving and to giving voluntary our time and sharing our knowledge and wisdom

Objective 3 – openness and transparency

All of our involvement in Hands in Union is carried out in complete openness and transparency

Objective 4 - participation

We help to spread the word about the existence of Hands in Union to our fellow citizens through the social media and through our various networks

Objective 5 - awareness

We are all led and guided by the fact that we live on this beautiful earth and are one big family where exchange between different cultures is a natural fact and importance.

And a clearly clarified objective which is:

- to support the hundreds of thousands of people that are homeless, orphans, without the basic needs in life or because of other circumstances are in a great need of help and support. We have in this initial stage concentrated and focused our efforts on Nepal and the living situation that hundreds find themselves in after the recent major earthquake disaster.

To these aims we find that a local perspective and focus is important so that we have therefore involved companies and people living in the affected area to build working platforms which enables us to operate on the local scene and thereby increase the feeling of affinity in a common aim.

An important part of this platform building is one where we involve; lecturers, entertainer and artists to share their knowledge, talents, passions and life experiences. Companies also provide natural increases and development of competency as well as private persons through participating in inspiring events.

The handling and taking care of the collected donations and funding is of great importance so as to ensure everyone's confidence and trust. We have therefore decided that all the sponsoring funding in connection with the travel & accommodation of the lecturers as well as the administration costs are kept separate from the other collected funding. This is through the generous gifts from companies and others.....

It has been decided that so as to maintain and guarantee the complete transparency And complicity of Hands in Union that the collected donations and funding to cover travel costs of companies or private persons to the people in need in Nepal be clearly defined and reported;

- The collected funding and donations to be transferred to the separate Hands in Union Swedish Bank Account. Every Swedish Crown is earmarked to our affected people in Nepal.
- The money transfer from the Bank account to Nepal will be shown on Facebook and on HiU's homepage.

- There are always possibilities for our donors to travel to and visit the involved places in Nepal since we only are responsible in the involvement in the project and can guarantee the transparency and the local involvement and cooperation.

The responsibility of the Hands in Union project in Nepal is through our cooperation friend and partner Geshe Pema Dorjee, a Tibetan Buddhist monk who, together with his monk colleagues are involved in giving and providing support to a dozen or so help projects in Nepal

We are in regular contact with Nepal and with our friends there. Such a conversation can be as shown here as follows::

So total amount we spent for urgent food supply was Rs.707625.00 (Nepali rupees) & out this from your money we spent $2500.00 which is equal to Rs.264000.00 & remaining Rs.443625.00 were from two other sponsors.

As we talked before that roughly 50% of the first wired funds for urgent food supply & remaining fund will be used for the expenses of the Hostel in Guljong.

Now you wired more fund therefore may be you will allow us to use for the second Urgent food Supply to the second village.

Please give me your suggestions or instructions. I will do accordingly. Lots of love & prayers. Pema Dorjee

In 2015 – 2016 Hands in Union were involved in the following projects:

1. HANDS IN UNION PROJECTS

- Food and material to Jharland Village in the Dhading District.

The Dhading District was one of the mountain areas outside Kathmandu that was heavily affected and damaged in the recent earthquake. Roads and houses were destroyed and it was difficult for transport to get through to deliver aid and assistance. We were therefore extremely worried and concerned on how the villagers had been affected but Geshe Pema Dorjee's help team managed in the end to reach the village and had with them rice, blankets and warm clothing for the winter.

- Support for the building of a home for children made orphans by the earthquake. Many children were made orphans in the earthquake catastrophe when their parents were killed. The families that survived therefore took care of these orphan children. The sheer size and need of support and aid in the form of a home, food and material was such that Geshe Pema Dorjee's team took the decision to build a home for these orphan children. Hands in Union therefore also chose to, together with other "actors" together with Geshe Pema Dorjee's team to fully support the building of this hostel for the orphan children.

Here I am sending the drawing & estimated expenses of Guljong Hostel for about 40 children who need urgent attention because of the earth quake last year. Plan for Hostel will have following rooms.

- First floor:
- One big room for 20 girls.
- Another big room for 20 boys.
- One room for hostel Parents or their guardians in charge.
- All the rooms are attached bathrooms & toilets.
- Ground Floor:
- Big dinning room
- Common room for 44 people
- Kitchen & small store room.
- Garden around the Hostel.

Note: This land is donated by one of our friend.

Please check to the following drawing & estimations sent by the engineer. Many thanks for your support. Lots of love. Pema Dorjee

- Winter jackets, clothing and blankets for children and families in the village of Baun Gaun in the Dhading District.

Baun Guan was yet another village in the worst affected area that lacked food and materials for the coming winter. A young man, Harisaran Jamkatel, took contact with Hands in Union and asked for help and support as he needed to purchase winter jackets for the children and blankets in his home village of Baun Gaun. Aid in the form of money was transferred and Harisaran was able to go and buy the winter jackets and blankets in Kathmandu and then transport them to his home village of Baun Guan.

Here below you can see how he supplied the purchased items to the children and families..

- Support to school fees, school books and material and clothes to 11 orphaned children or to children of poor families and parents.

Hope and Charity began to be built up during the latter part of 2015. One of Geshe Pema Dorjee's munk colleagues is deeply involved in helping and supporting street children and young adults. The aims and goals of Hope and Challenges is to provide support and help to street children and to the children with poor parents in order that they can attend school. By providing such help enables the children (and their parents and family), to achieve a life away from the streets and the slum areas.
